

“SIMPLICITY ITSELF”

“Garrett Electronics has demonstrated, with the GTI 1500 metal detector, the technologically pioneering ability to display both depth and relative size of targets of various dimensions. The new GTI 1500 is a Graphic Target Imaging metal detector with the power and promise to become another success story for the Charles Garrett team...

“Weighing only 4 lbs., 2 oz., the GTI 1500 features a well-designed, ergonomic, S-handle configuration that gives it a feel of being even lighter. Equipped with the 9 1/2” Scorchers imaging searchcoil, it is a rugged machine that offers various types of detectorists top-flight performance...

“The GTI 1500 packs many features, yet is simplicity itself. Perhaps that is why this detector is so amazing. The seasoned hunter can customize to his own settings, while the new detectorist can literally push one touchpad and hunt for treasure...Versatility? That’s an understatement for the GTI 1500. If you are in the market for a new detector and don’t check this one out, you may be kicking yourself later.”

The full review by Ben Myers was published in the October 1998 issue, page 52, of:

Copyright © 1998, 2000 Lost Treasure, Inc.

