FEATURED FIND

SAVING CIVIL WAR HISTORY

While searching a piece of his family's property in Louisiana, Chance C., of Mississippi, found two great historic finds from the American Civil War.

Chance recalls the discoveries, "This particular piece of property was used by the Union forces in the Siege of Port Hudson. After several hours of detecting, I recovered a handfull of Minié balls and a few other items when my AT Max came across a 66 signal. After a few scoops of dirt, out popped a U.S. belt plate! This was my first Civil War buckle to ever recover. The following week I went back out the same spot and once again my AT Max gave a nice crisp 60s signal. To my surprise it was a small style oval belt buckle. When I flipped it over I was in for quite a surprise. On the front were the letters V.M.M. which stands for Volunteer Maine Militia. It was in great condition and will be displayed in my collection for many years to come. Thank you for making such a great metal detectors that make this hobby so much fun!"

Garrett's Code of Detecting Ethics

Charles Garrett always urged his fellow searchers to conduct themselves as responsible treasure hunters and to leave their hunt areas in better condition than they found them. Please follow your local directives during the current health crisis, but when you are able to safely enjoy detecting, here are just a few of his keys to good conduct in the field:

- Never trespass or hunt on private property without permission.
- National and state parks/monuments, etc. are absolutely off-limits.
- Always fill in every hole that you dig.
- Do not leave litter or other discarded junk items lying around.
- Always carry out all rubbish and dug targets with you when you leave a search area.
- Use reasonable caution in digging toward any target, particularly in areas where you are uncertain of the ground conditions.
- Keep informed on and obey all local and national legislation relating to the discovery and reporting of found treasures.
