First Timer Finds Silver

Finder: Rhonda G., North Carolina
Using: AT Pro
Find: Rhonda has always been interested in metal detecting and thought it would be a great way to get into shape and loose some weight. She shared, "I have always wanted to learn to do it. I asked my husband to loan his AT Pro and show me how to do it since I don't have one of my own. He took me out to the forest where there are some old foundations and he started to show me what to do. It was not long before I started finding stuff. With every signal, I never knew what it could be. "Even though I'm an amateur, I am definitely hooked now. I can see why my husband does it so much. It's really a lot of fun. As soon as I can save up for my own metal detector I hope to go on hunts with my husband more often.

"Thanks for allowing me to share my first time with a metal detector and I'm hoping to be a future Garrett detectorist like my husband."

SELLING YOUR GOLD

There comes a time when every prospector wonders: How can I sell the gold I've found? To begin to answer this question, you'll need to know a few things about the gold market.

The Gold Standard

There is an old saying in gold circles: "There is no such thing as a free lunch." This is the gold standard. The price of gold is not set by the government, but by the market. The price of gold is usually based on the London Gold Market, which is the world's largest market for gold.

To find the average price for unprocessed and processed gold, you'll need to check the London Gold Market. The price of gold is usually based on the London Gold Market, which is the world's largest market for gold.

Garrett's Code of Detecting Ethics

Charles Garrett always urged his fellow searchers to conduct themselves as responsible treasure hunters and to leave their hunt areas in better condition than they found them. Please follow your local directives during the current health crisis, but when you are able to safely enjoy detecting, here are just a few of his keys to good conduct in the field:

- Never trespass or hunt on private property without permission.
- National and state parks/monuments, etc. are absolutely off-limits.
- Always fill in every hole that you dig.
- Do not leave litter or other discarded junk items lying around.
- Always carry out all rubbish and dug targets with you when you leave a search area.
- Use reasonable caution in digging toward any target, particularly in areas where you are uncertain of the ground conditions.
- Keep informed on and obey all local and national legislation relating to the discovery and reporting of found treasures.
